

Rationale

SDN is committed to keeping children safe. This means protecting children from all forms of abuse, bullying and exploitation and being a child-safe organisation as described in the National Principles for Child-safe Organisations.

SDN and all SDN, Board Directors, staff and volunteers have a legal, moral, and purpose-driven responsibility to protect children and young people; create and maintain a child safe culture and to acknowledge that protecting children is everyone's business.

Scope

This policy covers all SDN Board members, staff members, volunteers, students, and contractors and relates to children and young people under the age of 18.

Policy

We will:

- Act to protect from abuse, all children and young people who access any of our programs, services, or facilities, including online activities.
- Have policies and procedures that help us to keep children safe.
- Include child protection measures in screening, recruitment, probation, and performance review processes.
- Train staff on how to keep children safe from abuse and to know about, see and respond to child abuse.
- Report all child safety concerns or complaints to relevant internal and/or external authorities.
- Help children to do what they want to do safely and to feel safe.
- Help children to be able to know what unsafe situations might be and what they can do to be safe in a way that is practical for their abilities.
- Help children know how to tell us if they feel unsafe in a way that is practical for their abilities.
- Listen to children, take their safety concerns seriously and address any concerns they raise with us.
- Help families and members of the public know how to raise concerns about child abuse with us.
- Listen and respond to concerns raised about the abuse of children.
- Support families to protect their children.

- Communicate honestly and openly with families about abuse of children.
- Comply with all relevant legislation.
- Report on how well we are keeping children safe from abuse and continuously improve.
